To Earn Money

To Save Money

Tee-Dee Want Ads. have become of the utmost usefulness to the merchant. They not only earn and save money to their users, but, what is of equal importance, they reduce the worry and bother of obtaining competent help to the lowest minimum.

It is a well established fact that a steady and comprehensive use of Tee-Dee Want Ads. will sell goods, not only for the small dealer, but for the department store as well.

It is universally recognized and admitted that Tee-Dee Want Ads. form the most satisfactory employment bureau extant.

It is true, too, that Tee-Dee Want Ads. are the best advertising known for the price-one cent a word.

District Attorney Satisfied From Interview That She Was Not Connected With Leak.

EXONERATES MRS. PECKHAM

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 15 .- The grand jury of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to-day resumed its investigation into the leakage of the cotton crop reports of the Department of Agriculture. C. E. Clark, chief clerk of the Bureau of Statistics of the department, was the first witness. A mass of books and papers was carried into the jury room, it being understood that they were to form the basis of a minute examination of the methods of the department employed in the past in the preparation of the crop reports.

District Attorney Beach is hopeful of completing the investigation in a short time, and expects to secure indictments against more than one person, notwithstanding the absence of Mr. Hyde, the former statistician of the department, the refusal of Messrs. Peckham and Haas testify.

Statement Issued. The district attorney, in response to many inquiries by the press as to the appearance of Mrs. Sarah H. Peckham before the grand jury, made the following statement:

"Mrs. Sarah H. Peckham appeared in response to the subpoens served on hor in New York, and was examined by the district attorney. She was her in New York, and was examined by the district attorney. She was willing to appear before the grand Jury, if necessary, but the district attorney concluded from his interview with her that she was not connected with the so-called cotton leak, and was excused from attendance before that body. It is only just to Mrs. Peckham to say that from her statement she was ignorant of the matter and the revelations made in connection with it were not due to her nor to any domestic differences in her household. So much notoriety has surrounded her in connection with the case that it seems only just to her arid to her friends that this statement should be made."
